February/March 2014

Across the street from our home, beneath the winter-bare sprawl of a maple tree, there stands a holly tree. It is no taller than fifteen feet, but its branches are lush, thick with prickly, deep green leaves. And until last Tuesday afternoon the branches sagged under the weight of thousands upon thousands of bright red holly berries.

Last Tuesday it snowed all day long. By mid-afternoon the ground, and any fodder it had to offer, lay covered by three or four inches of brilliant white but icy cold powder. So when a flock of robins discovered the holly tree decked with its abundance, these creatures who must eat at least half their own weight per day did not gather around the feast like debutantes in an aristocrat's tea room. They descended on it with all the ravenous delirium of reporters around some disgraced celebrity.

It was quite literally a feeding frenzy, and the little holly tree trembled and swayed as hundreds of panicked wings beat furiously against leaf and branch and competing feather. Within thirty squawking minutes the holly tree was just one more green tree. Not a single red berry remains on that holly tree.

Almost every human economic and political system seems to be based on the fundamental theory of scarcity – the idea that there are too few resources to meet demand. When we found our institutions on the principle of scarcity, we necessarily create highly competitive cultures in which those few resources become the property and privilege of a very few.

The church has jumped on that angst-driven train, as well. And so even we who claim to follow Jesus help to strip our environment down to the nub, squawking and fluttering like a flock of famished robins ravaging what appears to be the scarce remnants of a winter-bound landscape. And so, we are pleased with God, and right with God only when we get not just enough, but excess. For some reason we have decided that we need more than our share in order to avoid feeling the cold creep of scarcity in our own lives. And in that economy even God's grace is a scarce commodity to be saved only for a righteous few. It must have been the same in Jesus' day.

“Therefore I tell you,” he says, “do not worry about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing? Look at the birds of the air; they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they? And can any of you by worrying add a single hour to your span of life?”
(Matt. 6:25-27)

It's a leap of faith to trust these words, and I will never suggest to anyone that it's an easy leap. I will say, though, when we make the leap, when we recognize the mysterious truth of God's economy of grace, the world becomes a place of startling abundance, possibility and hope – a place in which we will gratefully celebrate enough.

Robin redbreasts are beautiful birds, in some places the beloved heralds of spring. But are we created in the image of robins, or the in the image of God? There is a difference.

Peace,

TWO LENTEN BIBLE STUDIES BEING OFFERED:

A Lenten Study will be offered beginning March 6th at 6:30pm. We will use one of the studies in the Upper Room's Companions in Christ series – The Way of Blessedness: a study of the Beatitudes in Matthew 5. Student books cost $12.00 each. (And yes, this study requires outside reading and preparation.) For more information about the study, you may contact Carol Jernigan at 788-3082. Please call the church office to let us know if you are interested. A commitment is needed by Feb. 16th.

Beginning on Sunday, March 9 there will be a Lenten Bible study led by Allen Huff and Bill Reese. The title of the study is “At Table with Jesus.” In this study we will explore the following themes: Jesus creating fellowship as guest rather than host; Jesus eating with anyone who welcomes him; Jesus celebrating feasts rather than observing fasts; Jesus satisfying hunger of all; and Jesus at table as witness to the heavenly banquet in the kingdom of God.

The sessions will begin at 5:30pm with a light supper provided by the Congregational Life and Membership Ministry Team. The study will follow, and will end by 7pm. Because we need to have at least a ballpark number for those preparing supper, if you are interested in attending the study, please call or email the church office and give your name to Kathy. NO EXTENDED PARKING IN DRIVEWAY

THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE requests that in order to keep the driveway on the office side of the church OPEN, VEHICLES NOT BE PARKED FOR EXTENDED PERIODS OF TIME IN THAT DRIVEWAY.

When it is necessary to park a vehicle to load or unload items into or out of your vehicle, please move it to a space behind the church or in front of the church ASAP. It is EXTREMELY dangerous to back out onto Main Street traffic from this driveway. Driver's visibility is very limited and that includes the drivers coming from the direction of Boone's Creek or Fox Street towards the church.

Very Real Need for DEPENDABLE DRIVERS

The Congregational Life and Membership Committee is seeking those people who can help some of our church members who are no longer have the option of driving themselves to doctor's appointments or possibly the quick trip to the grocery store, etc.

If you can lend your time in this endeavor, it would be gratefully and graciously accepted by those who are in need of that extra special care. Please notify Kathy Scheu in the office if you can add your name to the Dependable Drivers List!

A LETTER FROM KATHIE DAMERON:

Dear Friends,

Thank you so much for all your cards and thoughts.

Moving to Harrogate, TN was and is an adventure. There are two convenient stores, one funeral home, a Dollar General and a Hardee's. LMU (Lincoln Memorial University) is the heart of the town. When school is in session the population is around 4000. When on break, the population drops to around 2000.

It took a while to find a part time job but I finally did and work around 20 hours a week.

Finding a church to attend was a little more difficult. Went one Sunday to a church in KY called Shiloh. It was too much of a mix of Baptist and Pentecostal. Tried a little country church not far from where I live and it just wasn't a good fit. Found a Presbyterian church online in KY. Went there one Sunday only to have a note on the door stating they were closed due to lack of membership. Finally found a Methodist church in town. Been going there for several weeks now. When they have a full house, it's around 20 people. The choir is five people including the minister. I'm the youngest person in the congregation. It's not JPC but it works. Sure miss you all.

Have not been able to get back as much as I wanted and planned but you are all in my thoughts and prayers.

Love to all,

Kathie Dameron
